The conference is aimed at contributions with innovative solutions from the automotive, life science and industrial measurement sector. This includes (but is not limited to) technologies such as:

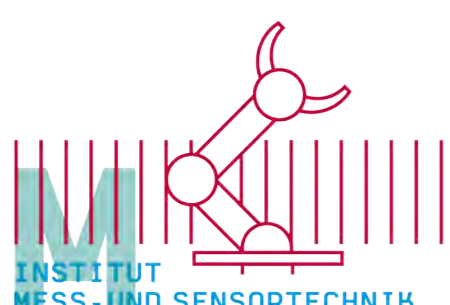

- Thermometry
- Impedance Spectroscopy
- Optical Sensors
- Quantum Sensors
- Sensor Networks
- AI-supported Sensor Evaluation
- Non-invasive measurements
- Energy Harvesting
- RF & Microwave Sensors
- Environmental Measurement
- Smart Sensors
- Novel Sensor Principles

The venue is located in the heart of the Ruhrgebiet. It has a rich industrial heritage and cultural significance. Today, it offers a diverse range of attractions such as UNESCO World Heritage Sites, art galleries, museums, theatres, outdoor activities, lively markets, delicious cuisine and vibrant nightlife. The Ruhrtourismus GmbH has built a platform and service to present a large variety of cultural activities. <https://www.ruhr-tourismus.de>
